The Irish Race.

In the Past and the Present.

By the Rev. Aug. J. Thébaud, S.J. 1 vol. 8vo. Cloth. Price, $3.50.

"The author has endeavored to present a connected story, in which the Irish people plays the chief part, and appears to the general reader as one endowed with life, and oftentimes with a surprising exuberance of energy.

"This peculiar way of treating the subject has likewise this advantage, that, dealing less with particular facts than with general features, larger views can be taken of the whole matter, and a higher standpoint is obtained to judge of a much-abused and almost totally unknown race of men."—Extract from Preface.

II.

Natural Philosophy.

AN ELEMENTARY TREATISE. By Prof. Deschanel, of Paris. Translated, with extensive additions, by J. D. Everett, D.C.L., F.R.S., Professor of Natural Philosophy in the Queen's College, Belfast. 1 vol., medium 8vo. Illustrated by 760 wood engravings and three colored plates. Cloth, $6.50. Published also separately, in four parts. Limp cloth, each $1.75. Part I. Mechanics, Hydrostatics, and Pneumatics, Part II. Heat. Part III. Electricity and Magnetism. Part IV. Sound and Light.

"Systematically arranged, clearly written, and admirably illustrated, showing no less than 760 engravings on wood and three colored plates, it forms a model work for a class of experimental physics. Far from losing in its English dress any of the qualities of matter or style which distinguished it in its original form, it may be said to have gained in the able hands of Prof. Everett, both by way of arrangement and of incorporation of fresh matter, without parting in the translation with any of the freshness or force of the author's text."—Saturday Review.

Popular Lectures

ON SCIENTIFIC SUBJECTS. By H. Helmholtz, Professor of Physics in the University of Berlin. Translated by E. Atkinson, Ph. D. With an Introduction by Prof. Tyndall. 1 vol. 12mo. Cloth. Price, $2.00.

"In compliance with many requests, I beg to offer to the public a series of popular lectures which I have delivered on various occasions. They are designed for readers who, without being professionally occupied with the study of Natural Science, are yet interested in the scientific results of such studies."—Extract from Preface.

IV.

The Two Admirals.

By James Fenimore Cooper. 1 vol. 12mo. Cloth. Price, $1.50.

Forming the fourteenth volume of the new uniform edition of Cooper's Novels. In 12mo.

V.

Insanity in its Relations to Crime.

A TEXT AND A COMMENTARY. By Wm. A. Hammond, M.D., Professor of Diseases of the Mind and Nervous System, etc., etc., at Bellevue Hospital Medical College. 1 vol. 8vo. Cloth. Price, $1.00.

Either of the above, when not to be had in Bookstores, sent post-paid by mail to any part of the United States, on receipt of the price.

MESSRS. JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

Hap-Hazard.

By KATE FIELD. 1 vol. small 4to. Uniform with "A Chance Acquaintance." ..... $1.50

This volume is divided into two parts—"Leaves from a Lecturer's Note Book," and "Americans Abroad." The former embraces brilliant papers written during and after a lecture season, and abounding in witty and pungent remarks. The latter includes letters and sketches describing people, scenes, and incidents in England and the Continent. The book is very fresh, readable, and popular.

John Stuart Mill.

A MEMORIAL VOLUME. 16mo..... $1.00

This little book contains a series of noble tributes to Mr. Mill from persons competent to appreciate his great intellectual and moral qualities. Among the writers of these tributes are Herbert Spencer, Henry Fawcett, M. P., Millicent Garrett Fawcett, W. T. Thornton, J. E. Cairnes, Frederic Harrison, and others of equal note. They describe concisely, but clearly, the memorable facts in his life—his career in the India House, his moral character, botanical studies, place as critic, work in philosophy, studies in morals and jurisprudence, political economy, influence at the Universities, influence as a practical politician, relation to Positivism, and position as philosopher. Taken together, these papers form a varied and somewhat adequate tribute to the memory of the great thinker, philosopher, and philanthropist.

THIRD EDITION.

What to Wear?

By ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS, Author of "The Gates Ajar," "The Silent Partner," etc. 1 vol., 16mo..... Paper, 50 cents.; cloth, $1.00

CONTENTS—Gorgons or Graces? "Dressed to Kill;" The Morale of it; What can we do about it; After-Thoughts on Our Fashion Plate.

The contents indicate how pungent and earnest a book Miss Phelps has written, pointing out some of the evils resulting from the prevalent fashions in woman's dress, and suggesting important changes. Every woman should read it.

Ruth Maxwell.

By LADY BLAKE, Author of "The Lady of Lyndon," etc. Vol. 31 in Osgood's Library of Novels. 8vo..... Paper, 75 cents; cloth, $1.25

"This story is told with a quiet charm, and contains thoroughly good and pleasant reading."—London Morning Post.

HOWELLS' NEW STORY.

1 vol. 16mo..... $1.50

"The 'Chance Acquaintance' is one of the most charming sketches in recent literature. The author appears to delight in producing his effects with the simplest materials, and the result is a triumph of genius."—Hartford Courant.

Underselling.

WE have already, and often, said our say, almost as strongly as we know how, against the most pernicious practice of breaking up the channels of the trade by underselling. A correspondent presents a typical case in another column. Where will this suicidal policy end? It has made terrible havoc in the book trade within the last ten years. Publishers begin to feel the results. With the exception of school-books the production and consumption of American books has been steadily decreasing during the last five years, until the minimum has been reached to-day. Various causes have brought on the present barrenness of the American publishing trade, but the chief cause is, and we mean to prove it in later issues, this narrow-minded, short-sighted competition of the producer with the dealer. It has sapped the blood and marrow of the book trade. Publishers of books have done their work; publishers of magazines and weeklies have done theirs. Stationery has become the staple article of bookstores, and is now purser of the sinking ship. If that too falls a victim to this mad epidemic of "cutting under," bankruptcy and monopoly must be successors. We do not despair. We trust that, sooner or later, the wiser of the trade will, of their own accord, return to the only honest and profitable policy, "Live and let live."

But what can be said of the wisdom of a house that pretends to do "a jobbing trade only," and competes with its own customers, with whom it has traded "more than twenty years?" The less said the better. "One of the Victims" proves that there is "another." Query, Who is the gainer?

WE return to the TRADE ANNUAL again chiefly to render thanks for the courteous action and cordial coöperation in our efforts, not only of the trade itself, from which there has been but one view in the matter, but also and especially of those who have before engaged in similar tasks. Letters from Mr. Challen and Mr. Kelly will be found in another column, in which those gentlemen have seconded our plans and given us the benefit of their experience in confirmation of what we have before said, with a heartiness which leaves nothing to be desired, and which is worth very much to us for its sympathetic encouragement. Mr. Clarke, also, falls gracefully into line and endorses our present project in such pleasant fashion as he is noted for. We trust to hear also from Mr. F. B. Perkins, of whose experience we should be glad to avail ourselves, and whose well-planned and vigorous labors toward a bibliography of publications 1866-9, while editor of the American Publisher and Bookseller, we had neglected to mention. Suggestions are still in order, from any source; they are not only valuable but encouraging to us.

Applications for the Uniform List have come rapidly in since our announcement of our decision to issue the volume; the publishers, as far as heard from, are glad to supply the required lists; there is general acquiescence in the need and usefulness of such a volume, and it promises to be a considerable success. Certainly it has already accomplished one object, that of stirring up the trade to a sense of its needs, and of calling forth a strong trade feeling as to bibliography. If, as we hope, it shall be the means of setting on foot the compilation of a thorough American Bibliography—a cyclopedic task which should enlist the experience of all our best bibliographers—we shall be well satisfied with our work, at whatever unremunerated outlay of time and trouble.

AMONG the orders so far received for the UNIFORM TRADE LIST is one from Dodd & Mead for one hundred copies. These they propose to place carefully among their customers, and they will doubtless reap liberal return from their investment. We suggest their enterprising example to other houses, being quite sure that the price put upon the volume will insure publishers furnishing catalogues against wasteful distribution. The more facilities book-buyers are given, the more books they will buy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.
THE UNIFORM TRADE LIST ANNUAL.

CINCINNATI, June 10, 1873.

My Dear Mr. Leyboldt:

I HAVE just finished reading the WEEKLY of the 7th inst., and as the trade is so unanimous about the "Trade List Annual" and so eager for it (at fifty cents) I can stay out in the cold no longer, but give in my adherence also. Put R. C. & Co. down for a dozen copies.

It is a true saying that "a man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still." I, being stubborn, am "of the same opinion still." I don't want to be convinced. I want to think that the "Utopian" catalogue can be attained, and can be made to pay you if you will undertake it. But the decrees of fate (or the booksellers) seem to have settled the matter for the present, so we may as well let it alone and bend our energies toward making this "Trade List Annual" as perfect as possible, get it off of your hands and into ours, and then the "proof of the pudding is in the eating." In this connection I may say that I think Mr. Cushing, of Houston, makes the best suggestion you have had on the subject, viz., that you devote a portion of the Annual, to be printed by yourself, to those publishers who issue but a few books; make your calculations and give the rates at which you will print their lists by the page or half page, or whatever space they may require. If carried out, this will add very much to the value of the Annual.

I do not repent having written you, as though a man may have little wit himself, yet, like honest Jack, he may be the "occasion of wit in others," so my opposition, though of little avail against such a multitude, has given occasion for the melancholy "bit of editorial autobiography" with which you have favored us—a story of disappointments and discouragements, yet told as lovingly as though you were ready to forgive them even "seventy times seven" times, that it ought to cut to the quick the hearts—if they have any—of those wayward and sinful brethren—the publishers. It is the old, old story, "how often would I have gathered thy children together as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wing, and ye would not." I hope these "children" of the publishers will yet be gathered together, and recorded every one according to his name and his kind, not by tribes.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT CLARKE.

NEW YORK, June 12, 1873.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly.

MY DEAR SIR: Permit me to express to you my deep feeling of appreciation for your able article in the last number of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY on the Catalogue Question. I notice you make use of my name in connection therewith, therefore I feel it my duty to say something on the subject.

You will recollect when, in 1863, I announced the continuation of the "Bibliotheca Americana," that Bibliography was at a low ebb in this country. Nothing save a few stray books appeared in the Publishers' Circular, edited by the late Mr. Rhodes. In that year Mr. Childs, of Philadelphia, purchased it, and for the first time in years he gave us a pretty accurate list. In the National Almanac (compiled, no doubt, by the renowned Allibone) of that year, and issued by the same enterprising publisher, was also a valuable list. Then each issue of that journal was filled with communications on the subject of cataloguing; and many were the suggestions as to the best plan for American Bibliography, the most conspicuous of which was by the highly accomplished Mr. Sabin. But, after all the talk and fuss, no one was willing to risk anything in the matter. Finally I undertook the work, and in 1866 completed my first volume. Shortly after Mr. Challen, of Philadelphia announced that he would bring out the next volume. I gladly withdrew; five years' experience was enough for me. Permit me here to quote an instance. I applied to one of our largest publishing houses for information relative to some of their publications, and was told that when a person entered into an enterprise it was his business to find out, not theirs to give.* On the failure of Mr. Challen to perform the work, in 1869 a gentleman of this city well qualified to perform the work printed a prospectus and issued a subscription list, but failed for want of support. Then, in 1870, in order to keep my promise with the Trade, to whom I pledged myself to continue the work, I again commenced work, and in October, 1871, it was ready for delivery—after I had worked 20 hours a day for 16 months. Let us see now how it paid; I give the exact figures. This volume cost for paper, printing, and binding $2,397.87, and the sales to date are $2,428.73. These figures need no comment. I have travelled through the States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, and Rhode Island, and I could fill a good-sized volume with stories of my unhappy experiences. I give one as an illustration: I called on a firm who boast that their sales annually exceed a million dollars. I received the polite answer that they had no need of such a work, and if they had it, would throw it in the waste-basket; but before I left that store their order book was opened and I was asked if I could tell them where a dozen or more books were published. They knew nothing about them. Had they a good Bibliography, they could have traced every one of them. I have also found that great objections were made to the price, and was told that my greed for riches exceeded good judgment. Now to be liberal, and that no one can object to the price, I will, on receipt of 500 subscribers, sell it at $3, and the first volume at $2—and on receipt of 1,000 subscribers for the new volume, 1871 to 1876 (now in preparation), before date of publication, will put it at $3 per copy.

In April, 1872, I announced that I would, on receipt of 300 subscribers, compile a general catalogue of all books published in the United States, from the earliest period to 1861, and arrange it on the same plan as that ideal catalogue which some of your correspondents refer to. But for this country it has been conceded that the last volume of the American Catalogue is superior to it in arrangement, a few mistakes excepted. For instance, the titles under the head of Treatises should be put under the subjects, an error that will be rectified in the next volume. This announcement, I supposed, was a liberal one. Now, let us see if it has met with the support your correspondents predict for such an enterprise. I have sent circulars to all the prominent libraries and booksellers in the country, and made personal application to some, but my total subscription list falls short of 75. Therefore, the plan that I would suggest is for Congress to appropriate sufficient funds for the completion of the work, and print 5,000 copies and send each bookseller a copy gratis.

*[We could name, as could Mr. Steiger also, other intelligent publishers who have made similar replies.—ED.]

And now a word on the new Trade List Annual. I am well aware from experience that the publication of this Annual will injure the sale of my catalogue. Nevertheless, I hail with pleasure its announcement, or any "make-shift" that will aid in finding the current prices of books. It will be of great practical value to the bookseller, when taken in conjunction with the American Catalogue; one gives the publisher and the other the current price. May success crown your efforts; and believe me to be

Yours truly,

JAMES KELLY.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11, 1873.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: After carefully reading Messrs. R. Clarke & Co.'s letter to you, and your comments, in which my name is freely used by both parties, and referring to your proposal to issue a "Uniform Trade Annual" similar in the main to the "Trade List Directory" I published in 1867, '68, and '69, I will give as my experience, after personal consultation with every leading publisher in the United States, that it will be useless waste of time and money to attempt a "Finding Catalogue," or what would be infinitely more useful, a "Bibliography of American Publications," without "material aid" is guaranteed by houses as abundantly able to give it as your correspondents, Messrs. R. Clarke & Co. are. They can afford to give $1,000 for such a work, and there are twenty-five and perhaps fifty other houses who would find that such a work would save them a thousand dollars a year. The enterprise would involve a large investment of capital as well as a liberal amount of brain-work to keep the work in a satisfactory shape.

If R. C. & Co. will be one of 25 to pay $1,000 to get up such a work, I presume in this city Lippincott, Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger, Porter & Coates, J. H. Butler & Co., H. C. Lea, J. B. Cowperthwaite & Co., Lindsay & Blakiston, T. & J. W. Johnson & Co., and other "solid" establishments of this city would join your Harpers, Appletons, Scribners, Randolphs, Putnams, Hurd & Houghton, A. S. Barnes & Co., Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co., and other wealthy houses in New York, with J. R. Osgood & Co., Little, Brown & Co., Brewer & Tileston, Gould & Lincoln, Donahoe, Ditson, Lee & Shepard, of Boston; R. Clarke & Co., Wilson, Hinkle & Co., Applegate, Blanchard, Stevens, and others of Cincinnati; Jansen, McClurg & Co., Cobb, Pritchard & Co., Culver, Page & Hayne, W. B. Keen & Cooke, in Chicago; and other leading publishers and jobbers in Baltimore, Cleveland, Louisville, Nashville, St. Louis, Memphis, New Orleans, etc., would readily make up a sufficient amount to make it a success.

If these houses, on the contrary, prefer to give you a cool assurance that "booksellers and librarians and others (including perhaps themselves) would be glad to buy it at a large price," it will be well to know whether 50 c., $5, or $50 is regarded a large price, or you will sink thousands of dollars and have few thanks for your care unless you know definitely what is proposed to be paid for such a work.

In your proposed enterprise the faults I have to find are, 1st, that it is too cheap to allow you to make a valuable work; and publishers, if allowed to print their lists as they please, will not arrange alphabetically according to author as well as title, and will only suit their own tastes without reference to yours, and the majority will not contribute at all, although your proposition is a virtual "free blow." Every publisher should pay his proportion liberally, and allow you to get it up right, as they know you know how to, and give you a margin, in case not enough, to draw for more. If you give the brain-work, they should give the money, and freely. Respectfully,

HOWARD CHALLENGE.

WHEELING, W. VA., June 10, 1873.

You will please send me four copies of "The Trade List Annual," by express, as soon as published. I have just read your editorial in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, of June 7, and can vouch for the truth of that portion of your article relating to the application of retailers for publishers' catalogues. I made such application last spring, through the columns of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, and in response received but two lists, and they were of small houses; not one of the leading publishers paid any attention to it. The catalogues I have I am indebted for to my regular correspondents, Messrs. J. B. L. & Co. and C. R. & H., of Philadelphia. I sincerely hope that the publication of the "Trade List Annual" will open the way for a complete systematic American Catalogue, such as you contemplate and the trade hopes for.

J. D. STANTON.

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 7, 1873.

YOUR proposed "Uniform Trade List Annual" is just what I stand very much in need of. Hope it will be well supported, so you may bring it out every year after this.

F. A. TAYLOR.

WILMINGTON, DEL., June 11, 1873.

PLEASE send us two copies of the "Uniform Trade List Annual," when ready. We are heartily in sympathy with your effort to so largely benefit the trade, and think you should have charged double for the work, that it might slightly repay you for your labor and trouble.

BOUGHMAN, THOMAS & Co.

BANGOR, June 10, 1873.

As a bookseller, I could not afford to be without one at any price. It is to be regretted that publishers and booksellers cannot unite and produce the long-needed complete classified catalogue of American publications. Your "Annual," however, will be a great convenience.

CHARLES HIGHT.

NORWICH, CONN., June 11, 1873.

WE heartily approve of your plan for a "Trade List Annual," and hope you may meet with a measure of success which will warrant the attempt to furnish at no distant day something more perfect and complete. Please send us two copies.

M. SAFFORD & Co.

TOLEDO, O., June 10, 1873.

PLEASE add our name to list of subscribers for two copies. We find your WEEKLY our best source of information regarding new books, and have it in constant use. We have no doubt we shall find the "Annual" equally useful.

BROWN & FAUNCE.

COLUMBUS, O., May 19, 1873.

PUT us down for two copies of "Uniform Trade List." We have for many years felt its need.

RANDALL &amp; ASTON.

HAMILTON, CANADA, May 6, 1873.

DEAR SIR: We have just read your article, "A Trade List Annual," in the current number of the WEEKLY, and think the idea an excellent one. We could ourselves dispose of say six (6) copies to good advantage, and if the idea is carried out, you will please put us down for that number.

LANCEFIELD BROTHERS.

WINCHESTER, VA., June 11, 1873.

We are much pleased with the idea and hope it a success. . . . A work which we have felt much need of. . . . Hope to see next a complete catalogue of all American books that are in print, alphabetically arranged, both by titles and authors, with names of publishers and retail price. Such a work we will be willing to pay a good price for, and hope some one will soon undertake it.

HITE &amp; WALL.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4, 1873

We must acknowledge that it is mainly because the WEEKLY is so good, so much better than anything we have had before, that we have wanted three copies, and have been vexed when we received only one or two. There is one feature we wish you could be induced to add to the many useful lists compiled in your columns. We should like each week a distinct list of titles entered for copyright in the Library of Congress, showing by whom they are entered. This would, of course, contain many titles of books which never will be issued. Another list of books actually received in Copyright Department would be very useful.

We should be pleased to join in the "Uniform Trade List" if you will advise us of the number of copies wanted. We need, of such a catalogue, four copies, for three library patrons and ourselves. We shall aid your enterprise in any way, and would take three or four copies of almost any bibliographical publication.

SUMNER WHITNEY &amp; Co.

CLEVELAND, O., June 10, 1873.

We want two copies Uniform Annual, which will be a handy thing, we judge.

INGHAM, CLARKE &amp; Co.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10, 1873.

WILL be glad to furnish our Catalogue for "Uniform Trade List." I am under the impression that I will receive information of the time and number of copies wanted, and place myself in communication with you that my list may not be overlooked.

AFRED MARTIEN.

NEW YORK, June 10, 1873.

We think favorably of your plan of publishing a general catalogue, and shall be pleased to contribute to it.

A. J. BICKNELL &amp; Co.

NEW YORK, May 20, 1873.

I APPROVE heartily of your plan for a "Trade List Annual." Please consider me as an applicant for the same.

F. B. PATTERSON.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11, 1873.

PUT us down for two copies of "Uniform Trade List Annual." We will print our trade list to go in it as soon as the size and quantity are fixed upon by you. Hope it may succeed.

SMITH, ENGLISH &amp; Co.

FARIBAULT, MINN., June 13, 1873.

WE hope you will see your way clear ere long to commence a complete Finding Catalogue.

ANDREWS &amp; PALMER.

CAZENOVIA, N. Y., June 12, 1873.

ENCLOSED please find P. O. money order for $1 in payment for two copies "Uniform Trade List Annual." I think no bookseller can afford to be without it.

W. W. WATKINS.

ANDOVER, Mass., June 16, 1873.

ENCLOSED I send $1 for two copies of your "Annual Catalogue." If you have issued any directions, etc., respecting the size of paper and other items, please send a copy.

W. F. DRAPER.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17, 1873.

PLEASE put down our name for five copies of your "Uniform Trade Catalogue." We are printing a new catalogue of our own publications, which will be of the proper size to insert, and we will have it ready for you in good time.

PORTER &amp; COATES.

BALTIMORE, June 17, 1873.

I HAVE often felt the need of such a work as the "Trade List Annual." Please find enclosed one dollar for two copies of the one you propose issuing this summer.

EUGENE R. SMITH.

SCRANTON, PA., June 17, 1873.

I AM glad to notice that your plan for book of catalogues is meeting with so much favor among the trade. Something of the kind is very much needed every day by all dealers having any trade in miscellaneous books. I agree with Messrs. Nims & Co., that the publications of the small houses are more trouble to find out about than those of the larger and better-known houses. I trust that you will meet with the necessary encouragement from all concerned to make the undertaking a success. We want it to be so, so much that you may put us down for three copies at any price.

M. NORTON.

ATCHINSON, KANSAS, June 6, 1873.

PUT us down for 5 copies "Trade List Annual."

R. A. HEIM &amp; Co.

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 13, 1873.

WILL be glad to have our List inserted.

JOHN P. MORTON &amp; Co.

BALTIMORE, June 17, 1873.

PLEASE put my name down for three copies of that excellent project of yours, the "Uniform Trade List Annual."

J. P. DES FORGES.

the following: "Dictionary of Poetical Quotations," by S. Austin Allibone, 8vo, pp. 788, $5.00. The book is another evidence of Dr. Allibone's patient, untiring energy. It covers the whole field of English poetry, from Chaucer to the present time, giving 13,600 quotations from 550 authors on 435 subjects. As may be expected from such a source, its indexes are all that could be desired. "Political Portraits," by an eminent English journalist, 12mo, pp. 313, $1.50, contains some very clever sketches of the leaders of the British Government, twenty in all, including such men as Disraeli, Gladstone, Lowe, Earl Derby, etc. "Plautus and Terence," by Rev. W. Lucas Collins, 16mo, pp. 155, $1.00, is the fourteenth volume of Ancient "Classics for English Readers." "What will the World Say?" by Ojos Morenos, 12mo, pp. 232, $1.50; "Must it Be?" from the German of Carl Detlef, by MS., illustrated, 8vo, pp. 134, $1.25; and "Wau Bun," by the author of "Walter Ogilby," 12mo, pp. 390, $1.75, are novels apparently of a very readable character. "The New Theology," by Rev. H. B. Browning, author of "Words in Season," 16mo, pp. 198, and the "Spiritual Delusion," by Dyer D. Lum, 12mo, $1.50, have also appeared. Lippincotts have in press "Oliver Twist," and "Sketches by Boz," forming the third and fourth volumes of their "Standard Dickens;" "Apollon; or, The Way of God," by the Right Rev. A. Cleveland Cox; "Beck's Medical Jurisprudence," new and revised edition; and "Under the Surface," a novel by Edward M. Connelly. The Medical Times, published by this firm, has recently been placed under the editorial charge of Dr. H. C. Wood. The new edition of Prescott will be in thirteen or fourteen volumes, at $2.25 per volume.

T. B. Peterson & Bros. have just published "Margaret Maitland," by Mrs. Oliphant, 12mo, pp. 239; "The Colville Family," by the author of "Frank Fairleigh," 8vo, paper, pp. 139, 50 cents; and "The Lazy Tour of Two Idle Apprentices," by Charles Dickens, 8vo, pp. 43, paper, 25 cents. The latter is said to be one of the best of Dickens's shorter productions, and, I believe, has never been reprinted before. Petersons have been getting up their books in much better form recently, especially in the bindings, using new stamps and issuing them in several colors, instead of the uniform black in which their books formerly appeared. Their announcements are as follows: "The Heiress of Sweetwater," by J. Thornton Randolph; "Cyrilla," by the Baroness Taulphoc, in which the authoress has rewritten the latter portion of the work, giving the tale a more pleasant and artistic ending; "The New Cook Book," by Hannah Widdifield, new, revised, and enlarged edition; "The Gipsy's Warning," by Miss Eliza A. Dupuy; "The Heiress in the Family," by Mrs. Mackenzie Daniel; "The Driver; or, George St. George Julian," by Henry Cockton, and a new and cheaper issue of Wilkie Collins's works, beginning with "The Dead Secret."

Porter & Coates have issued a new edition of Tom Hood's "Up the Rhine," illustrated 12mo, pp. 339, $1.75. They have almost ready for delivery to the trade "Memoir of the Duchess of Orleans," by the Marquise de H—, together with biographical souvenirs and original letters collected by Professor G. H. de Schubert, translated from the French. 12mo, pp. 391, $1.50; "The Pioneer Women of the West," by Mrs. Ellett, 12mo, $1.50, and to be sold by subscription; "The Most Eminent Orators of Ancient and Modern Times," with sketches of their lives, specimens of their celebrated speeches, and critical remarks on their genius, by David A. Harsha, 8vo, $3.50. I have looked over the sheets of their new juvenile, "Lady Green Satin and her Maid Rosette," and it is unquestionably one of the most charming juvenile tales I have seen for a long time. It will be ready some time next month, and the publishers are doing something novel in the way of binding, and promise to make it the handsomest juvenile book of the season.

George Maclean has published a new chromo, entitled "Blessed are the Pure in Heart," size 12 1-2 by 16 1-4 inches, $3. It is in twenty-two colors, and is from a picture by I. Waugh, a Philadelphia artist. The picture represents the figure of a young girl, standing in an attitude of contemplation. She stands in the midst of flowers and foliage, and holds some of the former in her hands, while a clear sunset sky forms the background. The pose of the figure is excellent, and the pure, thoughtful expression of the face is quite in keeping with the title of the picture.

The New World Publishing Company have issued "Prophets of the Bible and the Seven Churches," by Rev. W. F. P. Noble, illustrated, 8vo, pp. 552, $3.75.

Chesterman & Webster, a new firm, have just issued "You Ask—I'll Tell: a Condensed Encyclopædia of all Things of Every-day Life." Illustrated, 12mo, pp. 452, $2.50. The book appears to be something like "Inquire Within," only prepared on a larger scale.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE Appletons will positively have ready Father Thibaud's "Irish Race" this week, as also Ex-Surgeon-General Hammond's timely volume on "Insanity in its Relations to Crime." This topic is one of the most important of the day, and that which he especially is qualified to treat clearly and successfully. The four parts of Deschanel's "Natural Philosophy" will be issued bound up into one large volume, making a superb and complete work. "The Two Admirals," in the 12mo Cooper, will complete the week's list.

JAS. R. OSGOOD & Co. advertise this week "Hap-Hazard," by Kate Field, a small 4to, uniform with "A Chance Acquaintance." The volume consists of two parts, "Leaves from a Lecturer's Note Book," embracing papers written during and after a lecture season, and "Americans Abroad," including letters from England and the Continent. A more appropriate and sprightly little book for travelling and summer reading could hardly be found.

JOHN STUART MILL, a memorial volume, issued by the same house, is a timely and most welcome publication. It is a collection of tributes paid to the warm-hearted philosopher and political economist, by such men as Herbert Spencer, Fawcett, Thornton, Cairnes, Harrison, and others not less reputed and competent to give a true account of the most remarkable facts of his life, and an unbiassed judgment of his work. It is issued in a neat 16mo, price $1.

A FRESH novel, by that clever writer, Annie Thomas, under the taking title of "He Cometh Not," She Said," and a reprint of the great Harriet Martineau's "The Hour and the Man," will be added to the Harpers' select novels this week.

It was the first fortnight of 1871 that Col. Forney began to unload the stores of his richly-laden memory as to public men and events in the columns of his two papers, "both daily," the Washington Chronicle and Philadelphia Press. He finally pledged himself to write a hundred of these sketches, all of which are collected in the 12mo of about 400 pages, "Anecdotes of Public Men," which the Harpers issue this week. They are absorbingly interesting, and, touching upon most of the leading men of our national politics since Pierce's administration, a very valuable contribution to history. The topics and references are indexed.

MRS. MARY CLEMMER AMES is very widely and pleasantly known as the writer of "A Woman's Letters from Washington" in the Independent, which have been exceptionally brilliant and full of character. She has done also much other good work, including her novel, "Eirene," and the editing of the biography and later poems of her friends the Carys. Hurd & Houghton have now nearly ready a book entirely from her pen, the proposed title of which, "Outlines of Men, Women and Things," will, we trust, be altered for the better before publication. The papers which compose it are on a wide variety of topics, descriptive, personal, and thoughtful—Newport in September, Chas. Sumner's Home, Alexis in New York, Margaret Fuller, Physical Basis of Statesmanship, Pin Money, and the like, and we trust they will meet the warm reception which her work deserves.

DODD & MEAD are about to put into a new dress for summer wear some of their most charming books, such as Edward Garrett's "Occupations of a Retired Life," and "The Crust and the Cake," and Hesba Stretton's "David Lloyd's Last Will." The style of binding is new here; it is copied from the neat volumes of Low's Copyright Series of "American Authors." They will also publish this season two new juveniles by the latter powerful writer, "Lost Gip," and "Ally Transton; or, Faithful in Little," the English title of the latter being made the sub-title here, because of the existence of such a copyright book.

THE admirable "Handbook of German Literature," compiled by Gostwick and Harrison, to whose hearty and unanimous endorsement by the English press we have already referred, is almost ready at Holt & Williams, in a volume of the style and size of their "Class-Room Taine." Droz's great novels of "Babolain" and "Around the Spring" are the fresh volumes of the "Leisure Hour Series," for which three attractive works of fiction are in advanced preparation.

ANOTHER triumph of literary perseverance is Dr. Allibone's "Dictionary of Poetical Quotations," which the Lippincotts have ready in an octavo of 788 pages. It is probably the most complete thing of its kind—and a useful kind it is—in existence.

LITERARY AND TRADE NEWS.

AT the recent annual dinner of the Royal Literary Fund, Mr. Gladstone presiding, the Bishop of Derry proposed "The Literature of the United States," which was warmly received, and responded to by Minister Motley, who laid great stress upon the international bond between England and the United States, and said he regarded the literary men of both countries as fellow-citizens of the great English-speaking republic.

MR. GEORGE W. CHILDS, of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, recently received a very tasteful present from John Murray, the London publisher. It consisted of Byron's works, 6 vols., in full morocco with gilt edges. The fly-leaf of Vol. I. bears an appropriate inscription by the donor, and inserted is an autograph of Byron, which reads as follows: "The couplet in the Errata page must be altered to (as follows)

'The deepest murmur of this lip shall be
No sigh for safety, but a prayer for thee!'

Let this be done immediately, and at all costs, even if the other be printed off. B." The lines are from "The Bride of Abydos," Canto II., Str. xx., and the quotation is most happily chosen for the purpose for which it is used.

FOR thorough enterprise, the house of Geo. P. Rowell & Co. is an excellent example, as their American Newspaper Directory for 1873, now out, attests. It is the same massive volume as usual; especial care has been taken this year to make the statements of circulation as reliable as possible. A sketch of journalism in the United States, condensed from Hudson's book, prefaces the volume.

MR. HEPWORTH DIXON is coming over shortly to deliver a course of lectures upon the Spanish Republic and the new German Empire.

THE managers of the American Jewish Publication Society authoritatively announce that the Rev. Mr. Gutheim's translation of the fourth volume of Graetz will appear in September.

MRS. HELEN HUNT has been compelled by illness to return to Boston, and it is feared her Western trip this summer must be given up.

THE first volume of the new revised American Cyclopædia is in stock at the Appletons', and will be published, by subscription, next month. It is of a much handsomer style than the old edition. The publishers are determined to keep each volume up to date of issue, and stopped the press on their first volume to incorporate under "Arctic Explorations," the news of the "Polaris." It is proposed to issue a volume every two months, which will bring the last within the year 1875.

THE Messrs. Barnes, doubtless induced by their great success as educational publishers, now propose to enter the miscellaneous field, and promise in this direction, "The Mouth of Gold," a series of dramatic sketches of the life of Chrysostom, by Rev. Edwin Johnson, of Bridgeport, formerly of Boston; a work on "The Liberal Education of Women," by Professor Orton of Vassar College, and a book by Rev. Dr. Ray Palmer, "True Success in Life."

CHIEF JUSTICE COCKBURN proposes, it is said, to answer the very able book of Mr. Caleb Cushing. Probably, says Harper's Weekly, Mr. Cushing expects it. The Chief Justice is a man of conceded force, but it may be doubted whether in a controversy of this sort he carries guns enough to demolish his antagonist.

MR. HENRY MORFORD, author and traveller, has taken passage in the Egypt, announced to sail on the thirteenth. Mr. Morford proposes to visit Vienna, of course, and the result will doubtless be a new book, like his "Paris in 1867."

FOUR years ago the Library Committee of the American Institute of Architects issued to the public interested in architecture a circular calling for contributions toward an Architectural Library in the city, having first received subscriptions from its own members of $1,500. The appeal was responded to liberally, and with the money given a valuable collection of books has been accumulated, comprising many of the standard architectural authors in English, French, German, and Italian, most of the volumes being in folio and quarto, and illustrated with costly engravings, lithographs, or illumination. There is also a large and fine collection of photographs of the most celebrated buildings and architectural objects of Europe. Those who know the great costliness of such works will not be surprised to learn that though over $3,000 have been expended, much yet remains to be supplied, while many of the more recent acquisitions remain unbound, and are, therefore, practically useless. The officers of the association have just issued a circular asking for contributions of either money or books, and it should be liberally responded to. The library is doing a good work for young architects and designers, and deserves the fullest support of the public.—Express.

"MEN and Memories of San Francisco in the Spring of '50," by T. A. Barry and B. A. Patten, is a book shortly to be published by A. L. Bancroft & Co. San Francisco, which will possess much interest. The authors are well known in the Golden State, and have accumulated stores of material, and the book is of more than local interest. They also promise, by subscription, "A la California; or, Sketches of Life in the Golden State," by Col. Albert S. Evans, author of "Our Sister Republic," which makes a large and interesting octavo.

THE PARLOR KALEIDOSCOPE, just introduced by Geo. M. Jacocks & Co., 67 Reade st., N. Y., and described under "Fancy Goods" in the WEEKLY for June 7, sells at $3.50 retail. It forms one of the most attractive novelties for the counter, and no doubt will sell largely during the holidays.

FEW books have ever appeared from the Western press that will attract as much attention from the general literary public as well as the savants, as Foster's "Prehistoric Races of the United States," just published by S. C. Griggs & Co., Chicago. There are not many so competent to speak authoritatively on the subject of the "Mound Builders" as Col. Foster, late President of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, President of the Chicago Academy of Sciences, author of the "Physical Geography of the Mississippi Valley," and other kindred works. He has been preparing his data for years, and has embodied in this work all that is definitely known about this strange people, much of the work being the result of his own personal investigation, and never before given to the public.

RUMOR says that Stedman and Aldrich together are to make a book about Landor. Landor was a genius great enough and unique enough to be worthy the labors of commentators, and the two poets in question will be sure to discuss him with loving reverence and intimate comprehension. Of his power in this direction Mr. Stedman has already given shining evidence in his paper on Landor, in the May Scribner, an article of which I have heard more praise from the very highest sources than of any other literary paper of the year. Osgood & Co. seem to be the American proprietors of the Landor interest. They published Forster's "Life of Landor," one of the most deeply interesting of biographies; and they also published, in 1856, a volume of "Selections from Landor," edited by George S. Hillard. This is a large, handsome volume, with a steel portrait of Landor himself; and I allude to it, now, by way of answer to a frequent question, "Where can one find out something about Landor's works without reading him thoroughly?" Somebody says: "If you can't be thoroughly well-informed, you can at least be well-smattered," and there are a great many subjects concerning which one has no time to become more than well-smattered. To this end I recommend Mr. Hillard's book. It contains as much of Landor as the general reader will be likely to desire, and is selected more judiciously than such a reader would be likely to select for himself.—[Mrs. Moulton, in the Tribune.]

FOR something more than a year, rumors of a new and great American quarterly have been in the air. Somewhat definite announcement is now permitted to be made. It is to be called the International Review, to be edited by Rev. Dr. J. M. Leavitt, and published by A. S. Barnes & Co. Material for the first number, which will appear early in the autumn, has already been gathered. President McCosh will be a contributor, and I hear that Charles Francis Adams has promised to furnish a paper on the Geneva conference.

THE Tribune for June 19 gives an interesting account of the sale of the Perkins Library at Hanworth Park, near London. It is followed by some price quotations furnished by J. Sabin & Sons, from which we learn that the Mazarin Bible, on vellum, brought £3,400, "probably the largest price ever paid for a single volume, being equal to $21,000 in American currency. The same book printed on paper brought £2,690. The entire sale realized nearly £26,000, or $136,000 for 865 lots."

A COMPLETE edition of the poems of Edmund Clarence Stedman is a contemplated enterprise of the Osgoods. We trust, says the Mail, it will become more than a contemplation; it is too long that we have had to grope over odd volumes of magazines for the latest and some of the best efforts of one of the sweetest singers of the American aviary.

THE Boston Advertiser, which has on its staff one of the most candid and clever book-reviewers in the country, says of Miss Alcott's "Work," "Miss Alcott's last book is admirable. It is interesting enough as a story to win and hold innumerable readers, while its healthful tone, its thorough nobleness, its pure democracy and practical Christianity cannot be over-praised. It is indeed a story of work—of constant, useful labor, with no shining rewards of riches, position, or worldly honors, but with the immeasurably greater ones of 'independence, education, happiness, and religion.' . . . If half the thousands who will read this book will profit by it and put its lessons into practice, it will do more good in the working world than all the labor-reform conventions ever held, and all the speeches and pamphlets on the subject ever printed. It is not a new gospel, but the old one told anew, and applied to the troubles of to-day."

A WESTERN lady, whose self-sacrificing and energetic efforts in behalf of prison reform have met with much success at the West, Miss Linda Gilbert, has established herself for a year and a half in New York to pursue the purpose of her life here. The means she especially adopts is that of furnishing libraries of really good and live reading to the jails, making this library the office also of an employment society which shall give discharged convicts fair play and a free chance, that they may not be forced back again into crime. She herself gave $10,000 for the establishment of such a library in Chicago, previous to the loss of her private fortune by the fire, and is the type of a generous, unselfish, practical philanthropist. Her experience shows that 2 per cent. of prisoners are classically educated, and that 75 per cent. of the whole number are glad to get and read good books. She hopes to obtain 2,000 volumes for the Tombs and 1,500 for Ludlow Street Jail, and by the courtesy of the Herald has a desk at its branch office, 1,265 Broadway, to which place packages of books, which we trust many of our readers can spare, or money for buying books, should be sent. It may be well to observe that the prisons are already well supplied with tracts, and that criminals have no more liking than the regenerate for pub. docs.—Evening Mail.

Odd Slips.

A BOOK agent entered the open door of a snug Pittsfield cottage one day last week, and nodding to a trim, bright-looking little woman who sat sewing by the window, commenced volubly to descant on the merits of a great work which he was for the first time giving mankind an opportunity to purchase. It was a universal biography, cook-book, dictionary, family physician, short-hand instructor, and contained, besides, a detailed history of every important event that has transpired in the world, from the apple incident and Adam's fall to Credit Mobilier and the fall of Congress. The work contained five thousand chapters, all with running titles. The agent, after talking on the general excellences of the volume about five minutes, commenced on the headings of those chapters, and as the woman did not say a word to interrupt him, he felt that he was making a conquest, and he rattled away so that she shouldn't have a chance to say no. It took him nearly half an hour, and as he breathlessly went on, the sweat started on his forehead, and he made convulsive grasps at his collar, and when he finished he had hardly strength enough left to put on a bewitching smile and hand her his ready pen wherewith to subscribe her name to the order book. She took the pen, but instead of putting her autograph on his list, she lifted a scrap of paper from her work-box, and wrote in plain letters, "Ime defe and dum." He said not a word, but the unutterable things that he looked, as he turned to the door, would fill a library.—Commercial Advertiser.

AN Iowa bookseller, who advertised a work bound in sheep, received a letter from Kossuth County, that State, asking for further particulars respecting the sheep he advertised to send by mail, and containing an ink sketch of the style of sheep the writer desired.

AROUND A SPRING.

A Novel. By GUSTAVE DROZ. 16mo. New edition, revised. Leisure Hour Series. $1.25.

With a wonderfully small amount of material the author has made a most graceful story, interesting from the beginning to the end. Portraiture of character, description of persons, dissection of motive pictures of life in city and among the mountains, conversation, dialogue, development of plot, are all excellent.—Galaxy.

Gostwick & Harrison's
Outlines of German Literature.

Uniform with the class-room abridgment of Taine's English Literature. Large 12mo, $2.50.

Any one who is desirous of forming an easy and pleasant acquaintance with the best works of German authors may be safely recommended to study it. The book gives a very complete view of general literature from the earliest times, passing with judicious brevity over some of those works which have rather earned the respect of scholars than the esteem of general readers. . . . The reader will find much to enliven his passage through the wide field of German literature.—London Athenæum.

The modest title given to this volume scarcely conveys an adequate notion of its contents. The writers have not been satisfied with making use of the opinions and knowledge of their predecessors, but have throughout the book exercised an independent judgment, and on some subjects—as, for example, German theology and philosophy—much thought appears to have been usefully expended. . . . The authors have endeavored, and we think successfully, to explain the position occupied by the most original minds of the country.—Pall Mall Gazette.

OLD NEW ENGLAND TRAITS.

Old New England Traits. Edited by George Lunt. In one volume, 16mo. Cloth, $1.50.

A lively, readable book of characteristic anecdote and sketches of old time life. Lord Timothy Dexter and other odd characters are sketched to the life, and for a summer, gossipy book it will be found exceedingly entertaining. If any one can match the story of the Jugglers, let him produce his witnesses; and if any one disbelieves the witch stories and ghost stories in this book, let him tell more credible ones.

"The writer betrays an elegance and clearness of composition, a delicate appreciation of the aptness of language, which are rare in such books. The stories are one and all well told. . . . One who takes up the book will feel inclined to pursue it to the end, and when he has finished, to regret its rather abrupt ending."—Boston Post.

Alice Cary's Pictures of Country Life. New Edition. In one volume, crown 8vo. Cloth, $2.00.

Mrs. Ames's A Memorial of Alice and Phœbe Cary, with some of their later Poems. Illustrated by two portraits on steel. In one volume, crown 8vo. Cloth, $2.00.

"By reading her simple and graphic sketch we are admitted to the number of the familiar friends of Alice and Phœbe Cary."—Harpers' Monthly.

III.

THE ISLES OF SHOALS.

The Isles of Shoals. An Historical Sketch by John Scribner Jenness. Illustrated with Cuts, Maps, and Vignettes. In one volume, 16mo. Cloth, $1.50.

The increasing interest in this delightful summer resort has led Mr. Jenness to collect for the first time and embody in a careful sketch the curious historical facts about the islands, extending back to the earliest settlement of the coast. The book will be found of peculiar interest to all who have visited the place.

IV.

MR. BIRD'S PROTECTION.

Protection Against Fire, and the Best Means of Putting Out Fires in Cities, Towns, and Villages; with practical suggestions for the security of life and property. By Joseph Bird. In one volume, 12mo. Cloth, $1.50.

"Its pages are crowded with wise suggestions and helpful hints, which, if acted on by individuals and fire departments, would, we believe, save millions of dollars of property annually from destruction. . . . Mr. Bird is not a theorist or a visionary."—Boston Journal.

"This book is not taken up with theorizing or with rhetoric. His treatise might fairly be entitled 'common sense about fires.' The matter of the book consists chiefly in rather a severe criticism of the ordinary methods of fighting fire, and a compendium of practical suggestions and directions on the subject, compiled from long experience."—Springfield Union.

"A book of the most practical kind. The suggestions are worthy of careful consideration."—The Commonwealth.

"The book contains many valuable and wise suggestions which are scattered along the course of an extended narrative. The writer is a keen observer."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

To Dealers in School Books

AND ## SCHOOL MATERIALS.

The School Edition of the EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE, for the FALL TERM, will be issued in July, and will contain an entirely revised complete Classified Reference List of School-Books, with retail prices for 1873-1874, and a descriptive Summary of new Educational Books issued since last Fall.

The list will be arranged as in the number of last summer, according to special branches; such as Algebra, Arithmetic, Astronomy, Composition, Dictionaries, French, Geography, German, Greek, History, Latin, Philosophy—Natural and Mental, Primers, Readers, etc., etc., with numerous cross-references. Thus information on any branch can be obtained at a glance.

The names of the Publishers will be indicated by initials, to which a separate key will be supplied for the special use of Dealers.

The Educational Catalogue, published last summer, was circulated by most of the leading firms, and long after it was out of print inquiries for it were received from all quarters. The experience gained from that result will make the forthcoming one superior to any guide to educational literature ever published for the use of American Booksellers and Teachers.

In making up special orders for the Educational Catalogue Booksellers should bear in mind that it possesses more than temporary value, and will be called for during the whole year.

TERMS FOR EDITIONS.

 Cash remittance must invariably accompany each order.

WITH SOLE IMPRINT OF BOOK-DEALER, AND STITCHED.

100 Copies,       -       -       $5.00 | 1,000 Copies,       -       -       -       $40.00

The last page will be left blank, unless a stereotyped or electrotyped page, uniform in size with the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, shall be sent before going to press. If we are to make the plate, it will be charged extra at the mere cost of composition and electrotyping, viz., $5.81. These rates are charged uniformly for any page that does not contain more matter than can be set up in nonpareil. Copy should be sent with the order.

Mode of shipping must be stated when ordering the CATALOGUE.

NOTICE.

As numerous orders for editions were received, last summer, after the issue of the Educational Catalogue, we again call attention to the necessity of being in possession of all orders on or before June 25th. We must be able to determine on the quantity of the paper that may be required for printing several weeks before going to press.

In order to avoid unnecessary correspondence, we beg to say that, in justice to our advertisers, we must decline printing any editions "without advertisements," before October first. It is mainly owing to the support of advertisements that the "Catalogue" can be compiled and printed at the low rates at which it is offered to the trade. As, however, no wholesale price advertisements are accepted, the additional lists of publishers and manufacturers cannot possibly depreciate the value of the paper, but, on the contrary, will secure to the dealer additional chances for sales.

All communications concerning the EDUCATIONAL CATALOGUE should be addressed to F. LEYPOLDT, Publisher, 37 Park Row, New York.

All orders will be filled in succession, according to their dates.

THE Uniform Trade List Annual FOR 1873-1874,

Consisting of a Collection of the latest Catalogues and Trade Lists of American Publishers, and Wholesale Stationers, arranged alphabetically, and preceded by an alphabetical and classified Index of Contributors, bound up in one volume, for ready reference, will be published under the following conditions:

1. The price will be fifty cents per copy, which will cover the probable expense of binding.
2. In order to insure the contributing publishers against any waste of material and unnecessary expense, and ourselves against any risk which the nominal price would not warrant, no more copies will be bound than subscribed for in advance of publication.
3. The subscription list has been opened, and every name is entered in the order of receipt of subscription. The copies ordered will be dispatched accordingly.
4. The subscription list will be closed on July first, when the publishers and manufacturers will be notified of the number of catalogues and trade lists needed.
5. No subscription can be accepted after the number of copies to be printed has been determined upon. It would be impossible, later in the season, to gather again all the lists for a new supply.
6. No subscriptions can be taken in account that have not been paid up when the number of copies to be printed will be determined upon, as the small amounts will neither bear the trouble, nor the expense or risk, of numerous accounts, bills, statements, and subsequent collections.
7. The date of publication will be fixed and announced as soon as the publishers have stated the day when they will have their fall lists ready.
8. Remittances should be made by money order on New York, or registered letter, as we cannot be responsible for any losses. Receipt for remittance will be sent by return mail.
9. Booksellers, in their own interest, are requested to call the attention of librarians and large bookbuyers to the ANNUAL; but copies ordered by the latter must be subscribed for through booksellers. Except in the case of subscribers to the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, all inquirers will be referred to their local dealer.
10. Mode of dispatch must be stated in every application. As the volume will be a heavy royal 8vo., much expense can be saved by having it sent through the New York jobbing houses.

The nature and importance of this enterprise have been fully discussed in the editorials and trade letters in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY for May 3, 10, 17, 24, and June 7; which are recommended for a careful perusal.
